1. The sun refused to set

The sun refused to set

the sun refused to live, burning everything beneath it.

A big-bellied man stood up,wearing very old trousers and shirt,He stood in the doorway of the third house, wondering how the day would go, is today yours?

a man with a big belly is out of options he had nowhere to go, today the sun has not set,The house he lived in was very old, built of mud and grass, entering it required a lot of bending.

A man with a big belly couldn't sit still he went back out again, is he yours today?.

A big-bellied man refused to farm, he lived on the food of the neighbors, he refused to marry a wife said nothing could support him.He has no place to eat today, is he home today?
